Project Management Solution

KEEREN DESIGN
Residential Architecture

Keeren Designs, a boutique residential architecture firm based in the United States, needed a streamlined solution to manage in-house operations, improve team coordination, and reduce time spent on manual tracking. We developed a custom iPhone application tailored specifically for their internal workflow. The app empowers architects and team members to set up projects, assign tasks, and track progress through a user-friendly interface. With the integration of a Gantt chart view and predefined workflows, the app significantly enhances project visibility and task accountability—making it easier for the team to meet timelines without the chaos of spreadsheets or third-party tools.
